

The population of Lower Canada is estimated as follows— British origin, &c. 210,000 French ditto 390,000 Total 600,000

A very extensive conspiracy amongst the Glasgow operatives, was discovered in January last. At the trial of five men named Hatke, Hunter, McNeill, McLea and Gibbs, thirty-one documents and 141 witnesses were produced.

On Wednesday last, John Thomas Wyatt, youngest son of Mr. William Wyatt, of the Surrey Hills.

SALES BY AUCTION, BETWEEN THIS AND OUR NEXT PUBLICATION.

THIS DAY—Polack, at Rooms, Ironmongery Pickles, &c. Polack, at Rooms, Sugar & Tea. Polack, at Rooms, the Property of Captain Hutchins, of the Sir David Ogilvie.

NOTICE.

THE Public are informed that the Wood, stock Saw Mills, with Rabbiting, and Turning Machinery, and the Flour Mill, with Saut, Dress, and Biscuit Machinery, will commence work early in July.

Timber, &c., to be sold at the following prices, viz:—

Table with 3 columns: Item, Price, and Unit. Includes items like Flooring Boards and Battens, Lumber, and Ship Biscuit.

Timber cut on the shortest notice, and Conch-binders can be supplied with the finest country Pine.

W. Carter, Ship Agent, &c., Australian Stores near the Queen's Wharf, will have always at his Stores, a supply of the above-stated articles.

Timber will be sold at Woodstock, Illawarra, at 4s. per 100 feet less than in Sydney.

Wheat, purchased at Woodstock, at Sydney Market Prices, and will be ground for the Public at 9d per bushel, and dressed &c. at 1s.

Tenders addressed to W. Carter, for the conveyance of Timber, Biscuit, and Flour, by vessels from America to his Stores in Sydney, will be received on or before the 1st of July.

Petersham, 15th June, 1838.

Soap and Tobacco.

THE UNDERSIGNED have constantly on Sale— Colonial Pig Tobacco American ditto ditto, from imported leaf Cut Tobacco Colonial Snuffs Colonial Soap, &c., from their Manufactories, Lane Cove.

ALSO, London and Liverpool Soap. KIRK & SON, Wharf, Sussex-street.

Eight-day Dutch Clocks, &c.

M. A. STREET, has just received a few cases of the best DUTCH CLOCKS ever imported into Sydney, which she offers for sale at the following low prices:—

Table with 3 columns: Item, Price, and Unit. Includes items like Eight-day Clocks with alarms, Ditto without alarms, and Twenty-four hour Clocks.

ALSO, A TOWN CLOCK, in thorough good condition, with large bell, and every thing complete to be fixed in Church or Building, at the option of the Purchaser or Purchasers.

11, Hunter-street, June 15, 1838.

Rubans en Velours Epingle.

EVERY variety of Colour Shade and Width in FERRY-VELVET RIBBONS, so fashionable in London and Paris, as Trimmings for Bonnets and Dresses, and for other tasteful purposes.

J. DAVENPORT, George-street. June 14, 1838.

DRAYS TO LET.

TWO DRAYS TO LET, for the Conveyance of about 3 or 4 Tons of Goods to Bathurst, the Drays are now in Town.

N. B.—The Proprietor accompanies them. Apply to Messrs. Dingwall & Co. opposite the Old Toll Gate Lodge.

PUBLIC NOTICE.

To Mr. John Walsh, Clerk, Hobart Town DEAR SIR—I hereby give to inform you that the Promissory Note in my possession for the amount of my claim against you for clothing supplied, is now for a considerable time over due.

I also wish to let you know that prior to your leaving Sydney, in the "Marian Watson," for Hobart Town, I endeavoured to the utmost in my power to have an interview with you, for the purpose of serving you with a summons from the Court of Requests for my debt.

MANHEIM BROWN, Tailor, Draper, & Hatter No. 8, George-street, Sydney.

N. B.—In remitting the amount of my claim which will be very acceptable, please to add to it the sum of twenty shillings, which will be the expense of this advertisement. At the same time, should I be able to serve you in Sydney, by liquidating any claims, or retiring any notes, I will be most happy to do so, by your sending me the particulars of any such claims, with the amount in cash.

Royal Victoria Theatre, FIFT-STREET.

This Evening, Saturday, June 16, 1838.

THE Performance will commence with the popular Farce, called

CATCHING AN HEIRESS.

To be followed with the laughable Farce, called

THE ORIGINAL.

To conclude with the Melo Drama, entitled

THE DEATH TOKEN.

T. SIMES, Acting Manager. J. LAZAR, Stage Manager.

WANTED.

A PERSON capable of managing an Establishment in the interior, and taking charge of Sheep and Cattle. A married man would be preferred. Any person producing testimonials for honesty and sobriety, as well as ability, can apply to

MR. CHARLES ROBERTS, Castlereagh-street. June 14, 1838.

BARLOW'S Lithographic and Engraving ESTABLISHMENT.

Nos. 3, and 4, BRIDGE-STREET.

EVERY description of Engraving, Printing, or Lithograph, done well, and on reasonable terms.

No false prices advertised. The Proprietor deems it HONESTY THE BEST POLICY.

Furnished and Unfurnished Apartments.

IN a desirable situation, and in a respectable family. (No children). Apply at the Commercial Office.

UMBRELLAS & PARASOLS.

THE largest and best Stock of Silk and Cotton UMBRELLAS and PARASOLS in Town; to be had at

J. MACLEHOSE'S, 6, Hunter-street. P.S.—Umbrellas and Parasols neatly covered and repaired at the London Prices.

Public Notice of Removal.

CORNELIUS BEAN, BREAD AND BISCUIT BAKER, PASTRY COOK, &c., &c.

RESPECTFULLY acquaints his Friends and the Public, that he has removed from his late residence in York, to King-street, the late residence of Mr. Mace, chemist & druggist, where he anticipates a further share of public patronage and support.

C. B. begs to observe that he arrived in this Colony by Her Majesty's ship Buffalo, in the last year, in the capacity of cook, to John Hindmarsh, Esq., a Post Captain in Her present Majesty's Royal Naval Service, and then Governor of the province of South Australia.

June 16, 1838.

Just Received by the 'Mary Ann.'

AND ON SALE BY J. S. WILLIAMS, KING-STREET.

ADJOINING BANK COURT, PERFUMERY

Rowland's Odonto, or Pearl Dentifrice Ditto Macassar Oil Ditto Kalydor

Brown and white Windsor and Shaving Soaps Plain and violet Hair Powder Pomatums and Cold Cream Atkinson's Bear's Grease Galle and Pierce's Hair Oil, and Essence for the Handkerchief Shuttlesworth's and Stamper's Lavender Water.

Patent Medicines.

Henry's Magnesia Singleton's Golden Ointment, for the eyes Smyth's Scouring Drops Juniper's Essence Peppermint Ditto ditto Pennyroyal Godfrey's Cordial Marshall's Cerate James's Fever Powder Whitney's black Currant Lozenges Shepherd's Precipitated Liniment Ditto Camphor ditto Steer's Opodeldoc Inglish's Sore Pills Atkinson's Issue Plasters Johnson's American Shooting Syrup Dutch Drops Dalby's Carminative Hockin's Seidlitz Powder and Raspberryade Leeming's Essence for Jaunesess Powell's Balsam Amisced Butler's Fluid Extract Sarsaparilla Wright's Pearl Ointment, &c.

Brushes and Combs.

Hair, Hat, Clothes, Cloths, Nail, Shaving, and Tooth Brushes Tortoiseshell back, temple, head, and rack Combs Fine Tooth Combs

Fancy Snuffs.

Genuine Welsh, Irish, Scotch, Prince's Mixture, Harris's No. 17, Hardham's No. 37, Old Paris, Primaza, &c.

Sundries.

Cut-glass Smelling Bottles, assorted Maw's Patent Enemas Ditto ditto Beas Pumps Weiss's Patent Nipple Shields Clarke's and other Syringes Elastic Gum Catheters Trusses of various kinds Wax Tapers and Carriage Lights Hards Farinaceous Food for infants and invalids Robinson's Patent Groats and Barley German Tindor Court Plaster and Gold-beater's Skin Powder Boxes and Puffs Plate Powder Charcoal and other Tooth Powders Pink and blue Saucers, &c. &c. &c.

June 15th, 1838.

SALES BY AUCTION.

POLACK'S SALES.

To Ironmongers, Saddlers, Dealers, and Others.

BY A. POLACK.

At his Rooms, THIS DAY the 16th Instant, at Eleven o'Clock precisely,

ONE CASE FENDERS, Green, Brass, &c. &c. Thirty pit saws Two cases whips Four cases hardware Four casks ditto Ten ewt. iron pots Twelve packages corks Three cases plate looking glasses One case Dutch clocks One case Sardines A few kegs pickles And various other articles too numerous to particularise.

Terms made known at time of sale.

SUGAR AND TEA.

BY A. POLACK, THIS DAY the 16th instant, at 11 o'clock precisely, at his Rooms,

FOR the Benefit of the Underwriters,— 200 Mats (more or less) Mauritius Sugar.

AFTER WHICH, 50 Packages Gunpowder Tea 12 Cattes Hyson Skin.

Terms made known at time of Sale.

THIS DAY, at Eleven o'Clock precisely,

BY A. POLACK, At his Rooms, by order of J. E. Manning, Esq., Registrar of the Supreme Court,

THE Property of Captain Hutchins, deceased, late Commander of the Sir David Ogilvie

One Silver Watch, Guard, Chain and Key One Quartz One Writing Desk One China Trunk A quantity of Wearing Apparel.

Terms made known at time of sale.

MIXED HERD OF CATTLE.

BY A. POLACK, On Friday, the 22nd June, at his Bazaar, at 12 o'clock precisely, if not previously disposed of by Private Contract,

100 Cows, Calves by their sides 100 STEERS 100 HEIFERS

Further particulars on application to Captain Daere, Pitt-street, or the Auctioneer.

On SATURDAY next, the 22nd instant, BY A. POLACK, At his Bazaar, at Twelve o'Clock precisely.

30 COWS 50 CALVES 30 HEIFERS 30 STEERS.

Terms made known at time of Sale.

NINETY-FOUR ALLOTMENTS OF THE CELEBRATED ESTATE OF VAUCLUSE,

THE PROPERTY OF W. C. WENTWORTH, ESQ.

A. POLACK, With reference to a former Advertisement, has now the honour to announce to the Inhabitants of the Colony at large, that the Survey having now completed his survey, the Sale of the above portion of that splendid and unequalled MARINE ESTATE known as VAUCLUSE, the property of W. C. Wentworth, Esq., is finally fixed to take place at Eleven o'clock precisely, on MONDAY, 9th of July, 1838, at his Bazaar.

THESE ALLOTMENTS have been so marked out, that each has a considerable frontage to SOUTH HEAD NEW and OLD ROADS, the VAUCLUSE VILLAGE, and other convenient branch reserved Roads, and varying in contents from one to five Acres, or more, agreeably to locality and quality.

Twenty-five of these Allotments.

Front the South Head old road, commencing at Haydon's north east corner, and extending to within two hundred yards of the

FLAG STAFF, some of them consequently facing

THE LIGHT-HOUSE. Thirty-four Allotments have frontages on each side of the South Head new Road, from the Domain of Mr. Haydon's house, the residence of J. Haslingden, Esq., to its junction with the old Road, exceeding a mile in distance. The remaining allotments front

Vaucluse Village, and other convenient reserved Roads, all of which have their junction with the main Roads. Thirteen of these are bounded on their west sides by

ROSE BAY, immediately opposite the Marine Villa of

POINT PIPER, the residence of Colonel Gibbes, and extend from thence in east direction to the new South Head and Vaucluse Roads, having the Bridge Road, as originally made by Captain Piper, running through them from Rose Bay.

AFTER WHICH, A. P. will dispose of the northernmost portion of the Estate adjoining the Government Village of Watson's Bay, the residence of the Hon. H. H. Macarthur, Esq., M.C., M. W. Lewis, Esq., Colonial Architect, &c. &c., which said piece of Land has been marked out in conformity with the system adopted by the Crown as

A MARINE VILLAGE, which has been named

THE VILLAGE OF VAUCLUSE, and consists of, in part, of

FIFTY-FOUR ALLOTMENTS, containing half an acre and upwards each, laid out at right angles with each other. They have frontages to

VICTORIA OBELISK, recently erected by Government, to Petrarch and Laura-streets, and Watson and Parsley Bays, with a convenient reserved Road, named

The Village Road,

SALES BY AUCTION.

leading to the South Head Road, which it intersects about two hundred yards from the Light House.

Two high eulogium cannot possibly be passed on the very many and superior advantages this most beautiful Estate possesses. In the first place, it is no more than a walking distance from the business part of the Capital of New South Wales, being only about four miles, along good and lively Roads, and also a pleasant excursion by Water, so that conveniences of various descriptions are at all seasons easily practicable, a desideratum of great importance, as Gentlemen in public offices, (particularly those possessed of Families) might live here both conveniently and economically—for water, firing, and stone for building will cost nothing, and vegetables, poultry, &c., a mere trifle, and the formation of the Country being of sand stone, water can easily be obtained by digging on all the Allotments; and with a view of meeting the wishes of all parties, he has reserved several spots for Building Churches of the several denominations. The Views also from almost every part of the Estate are grand and picturesque in the extreme, embracing the whole of the east side of Sydney, with the Blue Mountain Range bounding the Western Horizon on the west side, the district of Botany Bay and Illawarra Mountains on the south side, the romantic Harbour of Port Jackson, with its various headlands, bays, and inlets, North and Middle Harbour, and Parramatta River on the north side, and the South Pacific Ocean on the eastern side, so that no ship or vessel can possibly enter or go out without being seen, so that it may justly be compared to the fashionable watering place at the mouth of the River Thames, well known as

SOUTHEND.

For the site of an Establishment for the accommodation of Officers on leave of absence, or Invalids from India, such another spot cannot be found, for

SEA BATHING.

so requisite for such persons, as may be here enjoyed at all hours with privacy, and the amusement of

BOATING, FISHING, SHOOTING, &c. is always at command.

TO WEALTHY GRAZERS

Residing in the interior, this Property holds out numerous advantages for their comfort; as here they may enjoy all the pleasures of the most fashionable watering places, so much desired and sought after in the mother country. Any praise emanating from the Auctioneer may be considered superfluous, who, however, cannot refrain from stating his firm belief that in a few years VAUCLUSE will rival Margate, Ramsgate, Braudstairs, &c.

TO THE RETIRED TRADESMAN,

Or those in easy circumstances, such another opportunity may perhaps never again offer itself, as various spots on this Estate have been for a series of years past considered by the citizens favorite ones for and for health cannot possibly be surpassed; indeed it would be difficult to find such a combination of beauty, variety, and usefulness.

Pic Nic PARTIES,

Ship and Boat Builders

would also find some of these Allotments particularly eligible for their avocations, as a bold shore and deep water bounds a great number of them, in some places sufficient for a

SEVENTY-FOUR GUN SHIP

to float alongside.

The CAPITALIST and MAN of FAMILY would also do well to bear in mind, that at no very distant period back the celebrated were considered as far off from Sydney as Vaucluse is now from the Eastern boundary thereof.

SURRY HILLS

As the whole of these Allotments have been distinctly marked out by Mr. P. L. Beni, the Surveyor, each corner thereof having a baton, on which is painted the number; A. Polack therefore invites the inhabitants to inspect the same personally prior to the day of Sale, as he is confident they will bear the strictest scrutiny; in the mean time showing the rises and falls of land, water-courses, and other localities, is now ready for public exhibition, at the Bazaar.

A LARGE PLAN

CATALOGUES WILL BE READY IN A FEW DAYS. Terms, liberal, made known at the time of Sale; and a Lithographic Plan will be given to each Purchaser gratis.

THE ESTATES OF

Raine Ville and St. Boswell's.

With a powerful Flour Mill and 3221 Acres of Valuable Lands near Bathurst,

BY A. POLACK,

On an early day, as soon as plans can be completed of the Properties.

RAINE VILLE, A Grant from the Crown—

CONTAINS Two Thousand Acres—Two hundred of which are cleared and fenced in, and one hundred Acres in a high state of cultivation, together with a large garden well stocked with a variety of Fruit Trees, &c. On this Estate has been erected a large Cottage, containing seven Apartments, with a sunk Stone Cellar & Store.

St. Boswell's

A Purchase from the Crown, Adjoins "Raine Ville," to the East, and contains 1221 Acres, of which about 30 Acres are in cultivation, with a

WATER GRINDING MILL, Miller's House, &c. &c. newly erected thereon.

A. POLACK, in submitting the above splendid Properties to the notice of the public, begs to remark, that they are not surpassed by any other in the District, to the residents of which they are so well known, that no comment is required. To the newly arrived Emigrant, anxious to obtain a comfortable Homestead in the most fertile district of the Colony, Raine Ville holds out the most favorable opportunities for Agricultural and Dairy pursuits possible to be imagined. To the experienced Miller, "St. Boswell's" would prove an invaluable acquisition, as he would here be placed in a populous neighbourhood, for the working of his Mill, with the advantages of an extensive property attached thereto.

Further particulars with Terms, made known as soon as the Plans now in active preparation are complete.

WORKING BULLOCKS.

SEVERAL TEAMS of excellent WORKING CATTLE for Sale by Private Contract. Apply to Mr. A. Polack George-street.

SALES BY AUCTION.

To Grocers, Dealers, & Others.

THIS DAY the 16th day of June, at Mr. Moore's, Pitt-street, at 11 o'clock, without reserve,

By Mr. Blackman, TEA, COFFEE, SUGAR, PICKLES, SAUCES, PEPPER, SPICES, &c. &c. &c., being the residue of Stock in Trade of the Proprietor who is about to retire from business.

ALSO, A very EXCELLENT PONEY with Saddle and Bridle, warranted sound and free from vice; has been accustomed to the side saddle.

Terms made known at the time of sale.

To Glaziers, Druggists, and Others.

TO BE SOLD BY AUCTION, By W. Hebblewhite,

On MONDAY next, 18th Instant, at his Rooms, Lower George-street, at Eleven o'Clock precisely,

TWO CRATES Table WINDOW GLASS 1 Case Seidlitz Powders 1 Case Soda ditto.

AFTER WHICH, 40 Bolts Canvas, No. 1 20 Ditto ditto . . . 4 1 Case Men's Shoes 1 Set Silver Edge Cover Dishes.

Terms—Purchasers under £30, cash; above that sum approved Bills at three months.

At the Risk of Former Purchaser.

TO BE SOLD BY AUCTION, By W. Hebblewhite,

At his Rooms, Lower George-street, on MONDAY next, the 18th inst. at Eleven o'Clock precisely,

ONE CASE SUNDRIES, Comprising— 6 Silver Watches Braees, Silk Handkerchiefs Gowns, Coats, &c., &c.

Terms—Purchasers under £30, cash; above that sum approved Bills at three months.

To General Dealers and Others.

TO BE SOLD BY AUCTION, By W. Hebblewhite,

At his Rooms, Lower George-street, on MONDAY next, the 18th instant, at eleven o'clock precisely,

ONE Bale Lancashire FLANNEL One ditto Lambs' wool Shirts One case Tapes, assorted One ditto Lambs' wool Half-Hose One hundred dozen speckled Hose One case silk Handkerchiefs Three cases broad brim Hats Two ditto drab Gossamer ditto Two hundred cotton Jackets and Trousers One bale Broad Cloths, colours One ditto Petersburg Great Coats One ditto Woollen Drawers One ditto Parramatta Cloth One ditto Counterpanes One ditto three-hushel Bags One hundred and fifty dozen Cord Trousers One case French Stays One ditto Rack and Side Combs One ditto Children's fancy Dresses One case English Garden and Grass Seeds One case Women's Shoes.

AFTER WHICH, Two hundred and fifty wood-seated Chairs Three hundred Hams.

Terms—Under £30, Cash; upwards, approved bills at three months.

Extensive and unreserved Sale of recently imported elegant and substantial English Household Furniture

&c., &c., &c.

TO BE SOLD BY AUCTION, By W. Hebblewhite,

On WEDNESDAY, the 20th instant, on the Premises of Mr. W. H. Tyrer, George street, at eleven o'clock precisely.

MR. HEBBLEWHITE begs to apprise the Trade, Families furnishing, and the Public in general, that he is instructed to sell, as above mentioned, the most splendid selection of elegant and useful Household Furniture ever submitted to public competition in the Colony, consisting of— Splendid Rosewood Cheffoniers Ditto Mahogany ditto Enclosed Wash Stands, with Fountains Ottoman Bedsteads Superior Spanish Mahogany Sideboards Cedar ditto Recumbent and Langham Rosewood and Mahogany Chairs Elegant Rosewood and Mahogany Card Tables Ditto ditto Loo and Sofa ditto Mahogany Dining Chairs, Morocco and Damask Seats Music Stools, Morocco Seables Mahogany Wash stands, marble tops Chests Drawers French polished Wardrobe Hull Chairs Telescope Dining Tables Mahogany and cedar hair seated Chairs Ditto ditto cane ditto ditto Ditto ditto plain and carved backs Toilet Tables and Glasses Hat and Umbrella Stands Quatrete Tables Iron Bedsteads Bed-room Chairs Foot and Kneeling Stools Oilcloth

AFTER WHICH, China Clothes' Baskets Ditto Pic-nic ditto With an immense assortment of Furniture, too numerous to particularise.

Terms made known at time of Sale. The whole of the above will be positively sold without the least reserve, in consequence of Mr. Tyrer declining that portion of business; and Mr. Hebblewhite only thinks it necessary to remark, that the Gentlemen's importations of Furniture are well known to be superior to any others, every article having been intended for private sale.

Windsor—Allotments for Sale.

Mr Laban White, Has been honored with instructions to dispose of by Public Auction, in the first week of July,

ABOUT One Hundred Allotments of LAND, in the very centre of the flourishing Town of Windsor, and forming part of that very beautiful spot of Land well known as Rieaby's Pad dock.

The Surveyor is now employed in laying out the Allotments, and in a few days will have plans ready for inspection.

The day of Sale and further particulars will appear in a future advertisement.

Windsor, 1st May, 1838.

SALES BY AUCTION.

WINDSOR ALLOTMENTS, FOR SALE BY AUCTION.

MR. LABAN WHITE.

BEGS to call the attention of the Public to the Plans which are now prepared of the Allotments in Windsor, advertised by him for public competition, and to announce that THURSDAY, the 6th July, is the day fixed for the Sale.

The Auctioneer in offering to the public so valuable a property feels proud in having it in his power, at the same time, conscientiously to recommend Windsor Terrace to the Private Gentleman, as one of the most beautiful and delightful—in the Invalid, as the most healthy, situation in the Colony, standing as it does on an eminence, and commanding most extensive, picturesque and interesting views of the Hawkesbury River, and the beautifully cultivated farms on either side of its banks—to Shopkeepers, the Allotments in George-street as invaluable, and the fortunate Purchaser may not only rely on making speedy fortunes, but on retiring from the busle of business, will find that their property is become of such immense value that they will be astonished at the wealth they have imperceptibly become possessed

FRESH SUPPLIES
AT THE OLD ESTABLISHED
OIL AND ITALIAN WAREHOUSE,
73, GEORGE STREET,
J. HOLDSWORTH

BEGS to inform his numerous Friends and the Public generally, that he has received by the Canges, Renown, and Ellen, the undermentioned new Goods, selected from the first Houses in the United Kingdom, which for quality and moderate prices cannot be surpassed, if equalled, in the Colony, viz.—

- Prime Cheshire Cheese
- Ditto Double Gloucester ditto
- Ditto Pine ditto
- Ditto North Wiltshire ditto
- Ditto Stilton ditto
- Fine Wiltshire Bacon
- Sauce Royal
- Indian Sauce
- Perennian ditto
- Harvey's ditto
- Reading ditto
- John Bull ditto
- King of Oudes ditto
- Indian Soy
- Chatney Sauce
- Ditto Paste
- Meat and Fish Curries
- Currie Powder

- Mulligatany
- Oriental Sauce
- Anchovies
- Ditto Essence
- Pickles, Capers, Mustard
- Mushroom and Walnut Ketchups
- Fine pulled Turkey Figs
- Bloom Raisins
- Jordan Almonds
- Soft Shell ditto
- Italian Juice
- English Honey
- Preserved Salmon in tins
- Soups, Bouilli, &c. in ditto
- Cumberland Hams
- York ditto
- Westphalia ditto
- &c. &c. &c.

In addition to the above, J. H. is hourly expecting by the Hygeia further supplies, particulars of which will appear in future advertisements.
Sydney, May 30, 1838.

WILLIAM PATTISON,
GUN MAKER, &c. &c. &c.
YORK-STREET, SYDNEY,
ADJACENT TO HER MAJESTY'S ROYAL MILITARY BARRACKS.

HENRY JAMES SLOMAN,
Formerly Bootmaker to His late Majesty King George the Fourth, by Appointment, and Royal Letter of License, by the hand of Sir Benjamin Bloomfield, at Brighton, in the year 1822.

RESPECTFULLY begs leave to acknowledge his best thanks to his Friends and the Public for the liberal share of patronage he has for the last ten years enjoyed at his hands, and begs to acquaint them, that he has just received from England a large assortment of WALNUT for Gun Stocks, and other materials which are not to be found in this Colony, and therefore invites their immediate attention; and W. P. pledges himself that any work entrusted to his charge shall be executed, not only promptly, but superior to any other in the Colony.
Sydney, June 5, 1838.

RESPECTFULLY returns his thanks for the kind favours he has received in the colony in years past, and begs to inform Gentlemen that he has taken one of those new houses of Mrs. Perry's, opposite Mr. Bussley's Pitt-street, where he intends removing as soon as possible, and will carry on the business of Boot-making, in the best manner the colony will afford.

MR. S. RUSSELL
HAVING finished his engagement as Steward of the Steam Vessel begs to acquaint the Graziers and Agriculturists of Hunter's River, that he intends commencing Business as GENERAL AGENT for the Sale of Dairy and Farm Produce, in those Premises lately occupied by Mr. Thomas Stubbs, situated in Druitt-street, adjacent to the Steam Packet Wharfs, where he trusts, by assiduity and attention to business, to receive a share of patronage and support.

H. J. S. begs to say, that he has no knowledge of the sloop-trade carried on in Sydney, nor does he profess to be a Ladies' shoemaker, having been brought up and taught his trade at Mr. Bann's, No. 27, New Bond street, London, one of the first houses in the world for making Boots and Shoes to order for Noblemen and Gentlemen only. And as a Gentleman's Boot and Shoemaker, H. J. S. begs to solicit patronage and support.

S. Russell, in returning thanks to those Ladies and Gentlemen who have patronised the Zanar during his Stewardship, begs to inform them, that the same punctuality will invariably be paid to their commands as Agent in Sydney, and which he flatters himself has given general satisfaction.

N. B.—Present residence, a little shop six doors above the Royal Hotel.
H. J. S. subjoins a little recommendation he received in this colony when in business in the years 1830, 31, and 32.

Wanted, a steady active LAD, to take care of an Office, and make himself generally useful. Apply as above.
Sydney, May, 1838.

This is to certify, that H. J. Sloman, of Pitt street, has worked for me and all the officers of H. M. S. "Crocodile," during the time we have been on this station, and the boots and shoes he has furnished, have been of the best materials and workmanship; we confidently recommend him to all our Fraternity.
[Signed by Captain Montague and all the officers of the ship.]
Sydney, October 14, 1831.

GEORGE KING,
DYER AND SCOURER,
No. 31, ELIZABETH-STREET, SYDNEY,
Between Park and Market-streets.

H. J. Sloman, of Pitt-street, has been known to me for some years, and has supplied me with boots and shoes quite to my satisfaction. Mrs. Darling, too, has been much pleased with his work. I recommend him as a good bootmaker.
(Signed) RALPH DARLING, Governor.

RESPECTFULLY returns his best thanks to the inhabitants of Sydney, and the Colony generally, for the Patronage he has already received since he commenced in the above line. From the arrangements he has made, he intimates to those who may favor him with their Orders, that they will be attended to with punctuality and despatch, besides being finished in superior manner.

This is to certify that Henry Sloman, bootmaker, Pitt-street, has been known to me some years, and has done all my work, and the boots and shoes he has furnished have given every satisfaction. He has also made boots for many Officers of the garrison, and they too have been much pleased with his work.
(Signed) P. LINDSEY, C. B.
Lieut. Col. 39th Regt.
Sydney, July 17th, 1838.

Every article of Wearing Apparel, Furniture, or Piece Goods, whether silk, cotton, or woollen, will be dyed, re-dyed, or cleaned, on the most moderate terms; and Orders from the Country strictly attended to.
N. B.—Feathers and Shawls, of every description, dyed and cleaned on the most approved style, and Blacks changed into other colors.
GEORGE KING.
Sydney, 1st May, 1838.

Ex ORESTES,
AND ON SALE AT THE STORES OF
MR. E. MANNING, QUEEN'S-PLACE,
FOUR THOUSAND BUSHELS OF SEED OATS

IN EQUITY,
Between ALFRED KENNELLY, Plaintiff,
And
ESTHER BIGGE, JOHN JONES, THOMAS DAY, LOUISE BIGGE, ROBERT BIGGE, JOHN JAMES WOOD, and ANN WOOD, Defendants.

Seven hundred bushels of the most superior Seed Barley
The above samples vegetate rapidly, and can be seen growing at the Warehouse.

TO BE SOLD pursuant to Decree of this Honorable Court, made in this cause, last past, before John Gurner, Esquire, Chief Clerk of the Supreme Court, at his office in the Court House, King-street, Sydney, on Thursday, the nineteenth day of July, at twelve o'clock at noon, in one lot,
All that Piece or Parcel of Land or Ground situate, lying, and being on the west side of Philip-street, in the town of Sydney, containing by admeasurement twenty-one perches, together with two Cottages, and other Buildings thereon erected, now in the occupation of Esther Bigge, one of the above-named Defendants, and known as Nos. 17 and 18 in Philip-street aforesaid.

Also,
One hundred dozen of prime bottled Cider
Five tons best yellow Soap, in boxes of 50lbs to 3 cwt. each
Eighty barrels superfine Dantze Flour
Twenty small boxes Garden Seeds
Invoices of assorted Brushes
Variety of splendid Marble Chimney Pieces
The whole of the above Goods to be sold in quantities to suit purchasers.
Sydney, May 12, 1838.

Conditions.—The Title commences with a Grant from the Crown to the said Esther Bigge, with uninterrupted possession ever since.
The Purchaser to pay 20 per cent. deposit on being declared the highest bidder, and the further sum of £500 previous to obtaining his order to be let in possession of the Premises, and the balance of the purchase money may remain on interest at 10 per cent. for twelve months, with security on the Property, and also to prepare and pay the expense of his own conveyance, security, and copies of title deeds if required.

JOHN JONES,
Boot and Shoe Maker,
No. 76, YORK-STREET,
Corner of King-street, Sydney.

For particulars apply to the Chief Clerk at his Office; to Mr. Edward Dorrner O'Reilly, the Plaintiff's Solicitor, 2, King-street, Sydney, where a Plan of the Property may be seen; and to Mr. G. L. Poignand, the Defendants Solicitor, Terry's Buildings, King-street, Sydney. Dated this Ninth day of May, 1838.

RESPECTFULLY begs leave to return his best thanks for the liberal support with which he has been favoured since his removal to these Premises, and trusts that by his exertions to afford satisfaction, he will meet with a continuance of the Public's esteemed favours.
N. B.—Country orders punctually attended to.
Grand Cabinet Rosewood Pianoforte.

To be Sold by Private Contract,
IN consequence of the owner being about to remove. It is nearly new, and will be offered at an extremely moderate price.
Application to view the above to be made to
W. HEBBLEWHITE,
Lower George-street.

RESPECTFULLY returns his thanks for the liberal support with which he has been favoured since his removal to these Premises, and trusts that by his exertions to afford satisfaction, he will meet with a continuance of the Public's esteemed favours.
N. B.—Country orders punctually attended to.
Grand Cabinet Rosewood Pianoforte.

THE PARIA:
A TALE OF EASTERN INDIA, ILLUSTRATIVE OF A PORTION OF ITS HISTORY.
CHAPTER IV.

Every person who has had experience of the burning climate of India will be aware that Morton's exertions could be of no very long duration. As his enthusiasm abated he became aware of this, and long before he had reached the shelter of the grove his pace had subsided into a slow and measured walk. The scene before him was one which, if presented to the eye of an European, would be called of intense magnificence. The whole grove rose in a series of acclivities, and seemed to stretch backward to an immense distance, where it was lost and blended with the sky. Every variety of tree, with its curling or spiry top, reflected a different hue against the blazing influence of the mid-day sun. One part, distant about half a mile from the grove, or forest, as it might more aptly be called, presented a character of particular, almost savage wildness. For a considerable distance, parallel with the general acclivity, there was an irregular ridge which presented a face of solid rock, broken into innumerable precipices, some of them of great height. At the termination of this ridge, the whole contents of the materials which had been taken away for its formation seemed to have been hurled and piled in singular and wild confusion of towering rocks, verdant earth, and nodding trees, which jutted out here and there with the most fantastic singularity. It was this spot which had obtained the name of the crags, and so much attached was Emily to it, that she had a small pavilion built there, in which she was accustomed to pursue her studies. The place had been beautified by art, as far as art could, without spoiling, embellish nature. The splendid wild flowers of the east had been taught to grow in luxuriant clusters in the rich thick soil which filled all the interstices between the gigantic rocks. The pavilion was planted round with mango-trees and bananas, wherever sufficient soil could be found, and had obtained the name of the Banana Lodge.

It was to this spot that Captain Morton now bent his steps. When he entered the grove, the cool shade which it afforded prompted him to quicken his steps. As he hastened forward, a leopard bounded from the thicket and stood gazing upon him; knowing the habits of these animals, he halted on the instant, and drew forth his sword, ready to impall it if it should make a spring. To his surprise, however, the creature showed no hostile disposition, nor did it run off alarmed, as is frequently the case. On the contrary, it continued to frisk and gambol round him like a young spaniel. While he stepped slowly forward, doubtful and irresolute, a low guttural sound, at a short distance, seemed to be recognised by the animal, which immediately bounded away into the thicket. Presently, ere he had well recovered from the amaze into which this had thrown him, a most singular looking being stepped from the bushes, and stood directly in his path. A small loose garment, made entirely of skins, covered his shoulders and a part of his chest. A pair of cotton trousers, gathered tight above the knee, completed his singular costume. The legs and arms were entirely naked, and the hair hung in long, loose, wild curls over the neck, shoulders and breast, varying the expression at every moment. He was attended by two leopards, which followed him with the docility of dogs. Round his left arm, which he now pointed full at Morton, was twined a beautiful serpent, of the Kaborbud species, as it is called, so well known for the splendour of its colours and the deadliness of its venom. As the finger of the Paria was pointed at Morton, the monster erected its flaming crest, and with its gleaming and fascinating eye fixed full on him, began to slide its spiral folds along the arm, so as to increase the elongation of its neck.

Morton was neither timid nor superstitious. He well knew that many individuals of the lower castes of the Hindoos possessed the secret of serpent charming, by means of which they were enabled to work upon the superstitions of their own as well as the more lofty tribes; thus by their talents exerting an influence over their oppressors, and obtaining a sort of revenge for their isolation. With some difficulty Morton withdrew his eyes from the deadly gaze of the serpent, and fixed them on the Paria.

"Strange being," said he, "what mean you by this mysterious conduct? If you wish to make exactions by working on my superstitions, your utmost labour will be vain. Go and practice your skill upon the ignorant Hindoos and Mussulmen, and leave me to pursue my way. If you be in want, here is something to serve your present necessities."

During this speech of Morton's, the Paria made several signs of impatience; at the offer of money he made a motion of indignation rejection; after which he advanced a few paces along the path, and beckoned for Morton to follow him.

"What is it you want? Twice before have you crossed my path. What would you? Why do you not answer?"

The Paria pointed to his mouth and made a sign that he could not speak.

"Ha!" exclaimed Morton, "Dumb too! Poor creature—fit companion for dumb animals!"

The Paria continued to beckon, and Morton paused to consider still whether it were quite prudent to trust himself with an individual of so mysterious a nature. He was well aware that dumb persons were supposed by the Brahmims to possess powers of an extraordinary nature, but he also knew that the very highest of these jugglers were too cunning to try their tricks upon the better informed Europeans. As his curiosity became excited, he became ashamed of his fears. The Paria was becoming impatient. His gestures became vehement, and he gave Morton to understand that he had something of consequence to communicate to him.

"Lead on!" said Morton, "I will follow thee whither thou wilt."

Morton had a pair of pistols in his belt which had remained there since morning, when he had been in person to reconnoitre the extent of Tippoo's lines. He did not omit to draw them forth and examine the priming of each, determined that if there were danger, the Paria should see that he was prepared for it. The latter led Morton for some distance in the direction of the Banana Lodge; but, as they approached it, instead of turning up the very pass which had been formed to lead to it, he advanced by a rough precipitous ascent towards the very topmost part of the cliffs. They had, with much toil, surmounted four of those ranges of rocks which rose like rough irregular terraces one above another, each forming a precipice of some depth. The ground over which they were now walking was rough and uneven, though it was apparently covered with soil, of some thickness. This level face stretched back to perhaps sixty or seventy yards, when another lump of rock rose in a singularly shaped mass, which, at a distance, resembled a battlemented tower. On the right was a small plantation, towards which they were approaching in a diagonal line. Suddenly the leopards, which had hitherto trotted forward very quietly, one on each side of their master, or scrambled after him, stopped, looked weary, and, at length, slunk behind him with a peculiar short growl, expressive of fear. The Paria turned and endeavoured to urge them to follow him, but they kept their eyes fixed upon the plantation before mentioned, and slunk back. The Paria turned in the direction indicated by the animals, and a loud crackling noise was heard, as of the breaking of branches, and the tops of the sapplings were seen waving and bending, as though they had been agitated by a whirlwind. The Paria looked anxiously for a few moments, and then, turning suddenly to Morton, he raised his arm and began dragging him swiftly in the direction of the rock where its face seemed to offer facilities for climbing. Morton kept his eyes fixed on the plantation. They had not proceeded many paces when the sapplings at the verge of it began to bend like so many willow twigs, and from the cover sprang an enormous tiger. The gleaming eyes of the monster were fixed on them in an instant, and he began to advance. The Paria stopped immediately, and with a sudden spring, turned round his body and advanced to it. Morton, knowing the habits of the animal, stopped also. The tiger drew up on the instant, but stood back on his haunches, with one paw raised, ready to spring forward in a moment. The Paria, still in the same attitude, with his arms and head stretched forth towards the animal, advanced one long and rapid step. The tiger did not move. He advanced another pace, and the tiger drew back a little. He took a third, and the tiger again backed towards the plantation. Morton had never seen so enormous a beast as this, but he had frequently seen tigers slink away before a decided foe, and knowing that determination was the only method, he drew forth one of his pistols, and, stepping before the Paria, he fired before the latter could prevent him, who had already raised his arm for that purpose. The shot evidently took effect, for the monster seemed for a moment to shrink together with a subdued groan; but, instead of stealing away, as Morton had expected, the insult roused his rage, and he bounded a few paces towards them. His wound, however, appeared to have lamed him, and the next minute his gallop had subsided into a limping trot. The violent heaving of his back and the lashing of his tail spoke his fury. The Paria made a hasty sign for Morton to fly and save himself, intimating that he could defeat the tiger. Morton doubted this, but, as escape for both seemed impossible, and as there was no time for deliberation, he took the Paria's hint, and rushed with all speed down the pass by which they had gained their present elevation.

(To be continued.)

possession of a small shallow cavern which was situated only about ten paces to the right of the door of the lodge. This cave had formerly been found to contain a great number of bones, which had been cleared away, and its entrance beautified by flowers which were caused to grow about it. There the tiger now lay, panting and licking with his huge tongue a considerable laceration which appeared in the fleshy part of his fore leg. The blood of Emily ran cold in her veins as she saw the tremendous creature stretch himself out and display his deadly fangs. Her own position she knew to be perfectly safe; but the horrible thought, that her father or some of the servants might come to seek her, and be torn to pieces before her eyes, harassed her. If no one came to her relief, to drive away the horrid sentinel which had planted himself before her door, she must perish with hunger. Morton, she was sure, had seen the dangerous situation in which she was placed. Surely, he would not be rash enough to attempt her rescue without that ample aid which he could so easily procure.

Morton had seen the dangerous situation in which she was placed. He had watched the tiger down to its lair. He had marked the precautions which Emily had taken. He had seen her form, also, in the observatory, and rejoiced in her present safety. He was too good a soldier to venture on such a knight-errant-like adventure as that of engaging the tiger in single combat; for though it might have exhibited his prowess to his mistress, the certainty of being torn to pieces gave but poor hope of ultimate consolation. He determined, therefore, to seek the Paria, and be governed by him. He ran to the spot where he had last seen him, but he was gone, nor could he find any traces of him. He returned, therefore, to the house of Mr. Romney, there to embody a force and to take measures either to kill the tiger or to drive him from his present very intrusive situation.

American Humour—Latest Imported.

"Caution to the Ladies.—Mr. Charles James Fox, who advertises for a wife in the Evening Star, says he is handsome and rich; don't believe him:—his handsomeness consists of a turn-up nose, and his wealth is a turn-up bedstead. Ladies, beware!"

Another for the Naturalist.—"A beet is now exhibited in Velasco, Texas, measuring thirty inches in length, and forty-two in circumference!—Beat this who can!"

Ambition.—A fashionable Loafer applied to Mr. Crutenden of the City Hotel yesterday, to know how much money he would take to allow him to stand on the hotel steps at a quarter before four, and pick his teeth.—"Oh, a mere trifle," replied Crutenden, "provided you make no bad use of the inference."

Aufsil Look Out!—If we go on gassing it as we have done—everlastingly boring and digging out the inside of the world, we shall make a regular piece of hollow-ware of her, and some day or other off she'll go,—sailing among the stars and planets—a monstrous monster of a balloon, inflated with her own gas!

More Snakes.—We are desired to announce the extraordinary birth of a most extraordinary litter of juvenile serpents at Copp's Hotel, the old Lebanon; where a matronly serpent last week discounted sixty offspring, all alive and writhing. We have not much faith in sea serpents, but any body may now see serpents in plenty by calling at the S.E. corner of South and Tenth."

Notice.—Fifty hard dollars reward will be given to any person who will detect the employes of Amos Kendal's post offices who peep into the packages of the N. Y. Herald, and detain them for their own edification instead of sending them to our customers. We know the temptation is great, but we cannot stand the cost and disappointment any longer. Remember the reward:—ye thief catchers be spy!"

Nullification Again.—The New York loco loco press supposes that Mr. Poinsett, one of the cabinet, is a black man, and thereupon proposes that the "government do forthwith counterbalance his influence by taking Colonel Benton into the cabinet,"—upon the precise principle of nullification recommended by Dr. Abernethy: "I have swallowed a mouse!" whined the patient—"what in the world shall I do?" "Swallow a cat," said the doctor.

Cockneys and Cataracts.—The great catarract of Niagara has given rise to many sublime ejaculations on the part of tourists, and to many that were quite the reverse. We should like a critic's opinion upon the following exclamation lately uttered by an English cockney as he surveyed the awful abyss and torrent from Table Rock. "Good gracious!—not uncommon roarin' falls them is!"

THEATRICAL BESPEAKS, No. 1.

(From the Guide.)
"The custom of bespeaking or naming a play has fallen into disuse. This is accounted for in the negligence with which the commands of the Theatrical Patrons have been obeyed, or the general inability of the provincial performers to sustain the character allotted to them." (Theatrical Tour, page 87.)
Among the recent requests, are the following:—
Two faces under one hood.—Lord Lyndhurst.
The Fire King.—Mr. Wakely, M.P.
The Spoiled Child.—Hon. Mr. Wellesley.
Wives as they were.—John Neill, Esq., M.P.
The Vampyre.—Baring Wall, Esq., M.P.
Man of the World.—Sir Robert Peel.
The Rent Day.—Daniel O'Connell, Esq., M.P.
Know your own Mind.—Lord Frederick Beauclerk.
The Busy Body.—Mr. James Pease.
School for Scandal.—Sir Francis Sykes.
The Gambler's Fate.—Lord De Russ.
The Fair Penitent.—Lord Melbourne.
The two Gallows Slaves.—Mr. P. Bothwick, and H. P. Wise.
Snakes in the Grass.—Sir James Graham and Lord Stanley.

Road to Ruin.—Marquis of Waterford.
Two Strings to your Bow.—T. S. Duncombe, Esq., M.P.
Mischief Making.—Editor of the Times Journal.
The Court Jester.—The Earl of Mulgrave.
The Russian Boy.—Hon. Mr. Bessford.
Damon and Pythias.—Lords Castlereagh and Chesterfield.
The Widow's Victim.—Sir John Conroy.
The Poor Gentleman.—The Duke of St. Albans.
F. O. X.

SONGS OF FASHIONABLE LIFE, 2.

The Old Commodore.—Captain Maryatt.
Let not rage thy bosom firing.
Little Love is a Mischievous Boy.—Lord Harborough.
While pensive I thought of my love.—Duchess of Bedford.
Sarah Sykes the Girl I like.—Mr. M'Clise.
Revenge he cries.—Hon. Long Wellesley.
A beggins we will go.—Mr. O'Connell.
A traveller stopt at a widow's gate.—Mr. Thwaites.
May and December.—Earl and Countess of Leicester.
Bo by your friends advised.—Lord Melbourne.
A master I have and I am his man.—Lord J. Russell.
The ladies' man.—Count D'Orsay.
She is all my fancy painted her.—Lord Lyndhurst.
Thy father away.—Duke of Bedford.
An old woman clothed in grey.—Lord Howick.
Go, George, I can't endure you.—Lady Cockburn.
Oh lady fair, where art thou going!—Mrs. Graham.
Go patter to lubbers and swabs d'ye see.—Bishop of Exeter.
Hark the bonny Christ Church Bells.—The Lord Mayor.
Rich and rare were the gems she wore.—Miss Angela Burdett.
F. O. X.

VARIETIES.

Slowness of Time.—If life be short, not so to many of us are its days and its hours. When the blood slumbers in the veins how often do we wish that the earth would turn faster on its axis, that the sun would rise and set before it does; and to escape from the weight of time, how many follies, how many crimes are committed! Men rush on danger, and even death. Intrigue, play, foreign and domestic broil. Such are their resources; and when these things fail they destroy themselves.—Rogers's Italy.

The Critic Rebuked.—The first sermon which Hall delivered, at Cambridge, after he had assumed the office of pastor, was on the doctrine of the atonement, and its practical tendencies. Immediately after the conclusion of the service, one of the congregation, who had followed poor Mr. Robinson through all his changes of sentiment, went into the vestry, and said, "Mr. Hall, this preaching won't do for us: it will only suit a congregation of old women." "Do you mean my sermon, sir, or the doctrine?" "Your doctrine." "Why is it that the doctrine is fit only for old women?" "Because it may suit the musings of people tottering upon the brink of the grave, and who are eagerly seeking comfort." "Thank you, sir, for your concession. The doctrine will not suit people of any age, unless it be true; and if it be true, it is not fitted for old women alone, but is equally important at every age."—Dr. Gregory's Memoir of Robert Hall.

A Foxhunter.—is a jumble of paradoxes. He sets forth clean, though he comes out of a kennel, and returns home dirty. He cares not for carls, yet strives to be always with the pack. He loves fencing, but without carte or terce; and delights in a steep chace, though he does not follow the church. He is any thing but litigious, yet is fond of a certain suit, and retains Searlet. He keeps a running account with Horse, Dog, Fox, & Co., but objects to a check. As to cards, in choosing a pack he prefers Hunts'. In theatricals he favours Miss Somerville, because her namesake wrote the Chace, though he never read it. He is no great dancer, though he is fond of casting off twenty couple; and no great painter, though he draws covers, and seeks for a brush. He is no musician, and yet is fond of five bars. He despises doctors, yet follows a course of bark. He professes to love his country, but is perpetually crossing it. He is fond of strong ale and porter, yet dislikes any purl. He is good-tempered, yet so far a Tartar as to prefer a saddle of horse to a saddle of mutton. He is somewhat rough and beastly himself, but insists on good breeding in horses and dogs. He professes the Church Catechism, and countenances heathen dogmas, by naming his hounds after Jupiter and Juno, Mars and Diana. He cares not for violets, but he doats on a good scent. He says his wife is a shrew, but objects to destroying a vixen. In politics he inclines to Pitt, and runs after Fox. He is no milk-sop, but he loves to tally. He protects poultry, and preserves foxes. He follows but one business, and yet has many pursuits. He pretends to be knowing, but a dog leads him by the nose. He is as honest a fellow as needs be, yet his neck is often in danger than a thief's. He swears he can clear anything, but is beaten by a fog. He is no landlord of houses, but is particular about fixtures. He studies "Summering the Hunter," but goes hunting in the winter. He esteems himself prosperous, and is always going to the dogs. He delights in the hunter's stakes, but takes care not to stake his hunter. He praises discretion, but would rather let the cat out of the bag than a fox. He does not shine at a human conversation, but is great among dogs giving tongue. To conclude, he runs as long as he can, and then goes to earth, and his heir is not in at his death. But his heir does not stand in his shoes, for he never wore anything but boots.—Hood's Comic Annual.

Terms of Advertisements.—For eight lines and under 2s 6d., and 10s Penny for every line above eight, for each insertion. —Orders with Advertisements must state how often they are to be inserted, or they will be continued until countermanded and charged accordingly.—All Letters must be Post Paid to the Office, No. 7, Colonnade, Bridge street.

Edited, Printed, and Published, every Wednesday and Saturday Morning, by the Proprietor W. L. JONES, No. 7, Colonnade, Bridge street, Sydney.